EMPLOYEE TUBERCULOSIS SCREENING

All new employees must provide current documentation of a negative Mantoux tuberculin skin test by a licensed health care provider.

Employees who are tuberculin positive must have a chest x-ray and a physical evaluation. The health care provider must submit documentation

1. stating the individual is non-infectious, and
2. outlining the plan of treatment, if indicated

Employees with suspected or confirmed infectious TB shall be excluded from school until the health care provider provides documentation indicating that the individual is not infected with TB or is rendered non-infectious.
